DAYALBAGH EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE
DAYALBAGH, AGRA-282 110

Press Release

We now have an open access to the Report of the Committee for Review of Existing Institutions Deemed to be Universities 2009 on the Ministry of Human Resource & Development (MHRD), Government of India official website. The MHRD Review Committee has found that the existing deemed universities fall into three groups, namely, (1) those institutions which, on an aggregate of their achievements and performance as well as potential, justify their continuation as "Deemed Universities"; (2) those, which on an aggregate were found to be deficient in some aspects which need to be rectified over a three year period for them to transit in to the first category referred here for their continuation as "Deemed Universities"; and (3) those institutions deemed to be universities which, neither on past performance nor on their promise for the future, have the attributes, in the considered opinion of the review committee, to retain their status as universities. You would be pleased to learn that as a result of overall assessment the Dayalbagh Educational Institute, Dayalbagh, Agra has been adjudged in the First Category of those institutions which, on an aggregate of their achievements and performance as well as potential, justify their continuation as "Deemed Universities". These Institutions under first category satisfied most of the criteria employed for the Deemed University Status and were allotted scores as well. Out of the maximum possible score (45), the highest score (43) was obtained by the Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore. The Dayalbagh Educational Institute, Dayalbagh, Agra scored (39) and stands-out 8th in the rank in the First Category out of the total 126 reviewed Deemed Universities.

6. ASSESSMENT

We are deeply conscious of the onerous responsibility given to us to evaluate the various deemed universities for their functioning and achievements to justify the status of a university. Taking the cues from the succinctly summarized essence of a university by one of India's most outstanding academics and adhering to the guidelines laid down by the UGC in this regard, we have attempted to be as objective as such a complex subject would permit. We are aware of the implications of our recommendations, for on one hand we had to balance the ideals and purpose of a university and on the other, the practical implications affecting the future of our younger generation – the students. Interacting with representatives of as many as 126[13] institutions deemed to be universities and critically evaluating the information provided by them, we are struck by the nature of aberrations and some unacceptable practices not in keeping with the spirit of a university, that have crept into the system recently. We, therefore, decided to develop a matrix to help us arrive at an objective framework of assessment.

As a result of our overall assessment we find that the existing deemed universities fall into three groups, namely, 1) those institutions which, on an aggregate of their achievements and performance as well potential, justify their continuation as "deemed universities" [Table I]; 2) those, which on an aggregate we find to be deficient in some aspects which need to be rectified over a three year period for them to transit in to the first category referred here for their continuation as "deemed universities" [Table II]; and, 3) those institutions deemed to be universities which, neither on past performance nor on their promise for the future, have the attributes, in our considered opinion, to retain their status as universities [Table III].

Detailed working in respect of each of the deemed universities is given at Annexure – VII (a), (b),(c) and (d), respectively.

It is especially the third category that heightens our dilemma. We seriously feel that the continuation of this third category of institutions with their present degree granting powers as deemed universities is injurious to the cause of quality higher education and without doubt imperil the future of millions of our youth. The present plight of this category of institutions was perhaps entirely avoidable. Be that as it may, the Committee is deeply concerned about the future of the student body already enrolled in these institutions. Even though suggesting all possible remedial measures in this regard is beyond the mandate of this Committee, some pointers to possible approaches to resolving the problems faced by students may be in order. For example, those who are enrolled in professional courses in constituent units (of deemed universities) approved by the respective statutory councils, the constituent units may be reverted to the earlier status of affiliated colleges of public universities with jurisdiction. Those enrolled in more traditional Bachelors' and Masters' programmes, migration to other universities could be an option. Salvaging the future of affected students would have to be carefully examined by a committee of experts by taking stock of the situation and ground realities in each institution. In any case, while giving careful consideration to these issues, the directions of the Hon'ble
